

Nuclear scare story dismissed

The anti-nuclear activists are now getting desperate.

Yahoo Alert (ic Lanarkshire)

October 31, 2004

Claims that leaks from a North Ayrshire nuclear power station have contaminated a huge area of surrounding land have been dismissed as "scare stories".

Concerns were raised that contamination from Hunterston A station was far higher than previously thought.

But former energy minister Brian Wilson said anti-nuclear activists "rely on scare stories to prop up their cause".